THE INDIAN RAID.

It is well that the National Government is under no delusion as to the very serious shock given to public confidence in the security of the frontiers by the recent raid at Panaj; all the more serious, perhaps, because the marauders, it is now admitted, are not Indians, but runaway soldiers and the scoundrels of camp banditi, the former being furnished with ammunition given to them for the country's defence, and not for murder and plunder. The alarm is so great, especially amongst the very large class who, for two years past, have been purchasing lands in the South, and stocking them, believing that the days of camp arson and murder on an organized scale, by either Indian or bandit, were over, that some short sharp and decisive measures can alone restore confidence. One of these measures should be a drum-head court-martial for every deserter caught by the troops, and a volley at 12 paces an hour after the sentence. As for the banditti, they might be left to the "discretion" of some energetic officer. It will reassure the public to know that President Roca and the Minister of War are determined to act energetically in the emergency, and another expedition to the Desert is on the tapis, to make a clean and final sweep of both Indians and banditi.

The latest telegrams from the South are still meagre and unsatisfactory, and the general belief is, that both the War Office and the Provincial Government have more information than they care to give to the public. Some of our colleagues refer to wholesale murder, arson and robbery. Mr. Gregorio Soler's estancia at Sauce Corto being mentioned as one of those plundered, several of his peons being wounded.
One bit of reassuring news transpired yesterday: The report about the Carline diligences being seized by the marauders is not true, as an English estanciaero who had remitted $20,000 mpc by it has received advice that the money has arrived safely. Let us trust that the other reports that have been so freely circulated for some days may turn out to have as little foundation as that about the diligences.

But it is not from the stand point of the loss of life and property in this last invasion that the subject should be mainly viewed. The fact that it has been found possible for a band of deserters and criminals to rush past the frontier lines unper-ceived, and carry off horses and captives from the very heart of the settlements, is the great point at issue.

The frontier line is an immense one, and the general public have a strong opinion that there are by no means enough troops at present employed in guarding it. The garrisons are also too small in each fort, can afford each other no effective aid when surprised, and are often very ill supplied with horses, which are, besides, always the first object of attack by the banditti—to obtain successful attack, the soldiers being thus left powerless for pursuit. Garrisons of greater strength are imperatively required at Ocharne, Puan and all along the line; in fact troops enough to ensure that no Indians or banditi can repeat the present raid from any quarter whatever, or under any circumstances, otherwise we may bid farewell to all hope of populating the rich and fertile territories from which it was thought, up to a week ago, that the savage and the marauder had been driven for ever.

We have, however, the fullest confidence that President Roca will not allow the future of the territory he rescued from the Indian, and the good name of the country abroad, to be marred by a handful of desperadoes, but will speedily, by the most energetic operations, efface both the marauders and the great alarm to which their recent excesses have so naturally given rise.

THE STANDARD SUNDAY JUNE 12, 1881.

DEPARTURE OF FATHER MARTIN.

The Irish community in the River Plate will hear with regret of the departure of the Rev. Father Martin for Europe on Wednesday next, a clergyman who, in the discharge of his sacerdotal duties, gained the esteem and respect not only of his countrymen but also of foreigners, irrespective of their religious persuasions, who had the pleasure of his acquaintance.

During his two years' residence in the Plate he visited most of the partidos in the camp, held missions in the various country towns, called on most of the farmers at their houses; whilst in town he reopened San Roque Church, which for the last quarter of a century was known as the Irish Catholic church of this city; he founded a house of his order, opened a school for boys, organized a society of Beneficence amongst the Irish Catholics in the city, took charge of poor orphan boys, who he placed in the Industrial School at San Carlos; in one word, his career in this country has been one continued list of good deeds, and we cannot allow this Reverend gentleman, who has proved so useful to our community, to leave us without some expression of thanks for his valued services.

The good which Father Martin has effected amongst his countrymen in the River Plate will not perish with his departure, and his name will be revered and respected amongst us as more zealous clergyman, in the discharge of his sacerdotal duties, we think we never knew, and his eminent success here is perhaps the very best proof of the want which he met. We much regret his departure, and trust that he will soon return amongst us. The Irish community in the River Plate, although sufficiently alive to the great importance of such an active and zealous clergyman as the Rev. Father Martin in this city to their well-being and success: his services are needed not only we say within the precincts of San Roque, but in every parish of the town and its suburbs, and it would be a mistake to overlook certain dissolving tendencies which exist in this country, perhaps more so than in any part of Europe. The great absorption of our business affairs, the simplicity of life, high wages, and a higher standard of life's enjoyments by the working classes, engender, perhaps, a greater laxity of the rules of life than in Ireland, and thus it is with the clergyman in the River Plate, although his jurisdiction is the same, his influence is unmistakably less. The Irish Catholic clergyman in this city is, in the true sense, the agent of the poor: he has to look for situations for the unemployed, to have a welcome for his friendless fellow countrymen, to walk forty squares a day in visiting the poor and the sick, to send people to the camp, to receive letters, answer enquiries, and, in one word, to discharge worldly duties unknown to his cloth at home.

To the fullest measure of this programme Father Martin has played his part. We met him in avenues of life rarely visited by clergymen of any persuasion, spreading sunshine and doing good; and, if it is permitted to us to offer a remark to the Superior of his Order, we must say that his field of action is infinitely wider and better amongst his countrymen in the River Plate than narrowed up in his monastery at Harold's Cross.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent.)

June, 10th.

That active business man, Brother Jonathan, invented a cute commercial institution which is known by the name of 'Ring.' It ought to be spelt 'ring' for the object is to wring as much money as possible out of the public by the monopolization of certain mercantile articles. As we, in this country, strive to imitate the United States in everything, we have imported this dodge and acclimatized it here. I do not think the natives have Spanishified the word yet, but they might translate 'wring' and call it 'la ciencia de estrinjar.'

A Ring has been made in wheat this year, and the parties who are interested must be very sharp; but if the bottom falls out before they all make their fortunes, the public will not be sorry. (Please to take note that the washerwomen 'wring' clothes in a tub, and the tub has a bottom, so the phrase I use is not so inappropriate.)

I cannot understand why the wheat ring can have monopolized the market so long. As for a short, wheat and flour enough, and to spare, to last us until harvest, without counting on Chile, and yet the public are paying fully famine prices for bread. As I mentioned in one of my letters, most of the wheat of this province will be turned into flour here, but very little flour has yet left Santa Fe ports. The crop amounted to two millions and a half of bushels. The crop in Buenos Ayres was a fair one; there is no part of the country where the crops failed, as was the case last year, and yet wheat commands a price equal to that of last year. There can be no doubt that a powerful combination has enclosed the business in a Ring, and will wring the public to their own advantage. One of our greatest speculators, however, has got rid of all his wheat, and as he is a very shrewd man, it makes me think that some of the wringers will find their fingers burnt.

Up to date the lambing season has been propitious, and the increase of the flocks will be very satisfactory if the weather remains moderate. Notwithstanding a few rather severe frosts, the lambs are in fine condition, and the sheepfarmers say the mortality has been almost nil. The weather is a little trying now; drizzling, dirty weather, but not cold enough to inspire any apprehension.

Our Little Peddlington papers have taken up the Chilean-Argentine Question, bringing their farthing rashes to bear on the telegrams recently received. One of them, the Independiente, in a rational manner, congratulates the country, and urges Congress to lay aside all animosity and hasten to ratify the treaty that it appears the two Governments are about making. The Capital, however, which insists that nothing good can come out of Nazareth, takes a bellicose tone. The poor Capital will never admit that the present National Administration is capable of anything but wrong-doing. If I understand right, the arrangement is a wonderfully politic one, and one that, it appears, never was hit upon by the Argentine and Chilean Diplomats. It is an emanation from the sound common sense of the American Ministers; singular enough they should both bear the same name. Whatever may be the ancient rights of the Argentine Republic to the Straits, Chile has acquired rights; and, besides, this country has no need of the dominion of the Straits, while for Chile they are her highway to Europe. The possession of Cape Virgata, at the Atlantic entrance of the Straits, given to the Argentine Republic, although of little or no use to her, was a wise and happy thought on the part of the negotiators. It will satisfy national vanity; for, after all, the territory of the Nation will extend to the Straits of Magellan, if it be only by a narrow strip, and a barren, rocky cape. Then, if arbitration gives us the Tierra del Fuego, well and good, for there may be coal, there, and we know there are valuable fisheries; but if not, why let the Chileans have it and welcome, if it will only civilize it, and let it pass with us for ever more. Any way, the parting with a few rugged islands and a line of sterile coast, will not alter the great fact that the Argentine Republic will be a great and populous nation; when Chile, from natural circumstances, must necessarily be a comparatively small one. Let President Roca settle this question, and he will have greased the wheels of the triumphal car of the Republic to break down purpose that no future breakdown need be feared.

There is a probability that Colony Fairs will become an institution in this Province. They are trying it in one or two places in the north of the Province, and now Mr. Casado has initiated the idea in Cauderio, where a fair was held the other day. It will need some time, however, to mature the idea. When once a system of periodical Fairs shall be established it will facilitate greatly the purchase and sale of all kinds of farming produce and stock. I am watching this move with considerable interest, and shall get what data I can on the subject. As for the Candelario Fair, all I have been able to learn yet is, that there was any amount of cattle and beef drunk, and dancing kept up until daylight, which is not exactly the data I desire to communicate to the readers of the Standard.

Mr. Posse has made the first shipment, (1) of the new crop of sugar, from Tucuman, I suppose to Cordoba, for none has arrived in Rosario yet. A considerable part of the crop will come down in barrels this year, a great improvement.

Weather muggy. Business dull. Streets muddy.

COLON THEATRE.

Mayerbeer's grand opera, 'Robert le Diable,' was performed for the 22nd time on Friday night, and though the theatre was by no means full, still, taking into consideration the unpleasant weather, there were more people than one would expect to see. I think everybody will now admit that the Borghi-Mamo is a great artist; her voice is of excellent quality, and is managed with great tact. She would have been deservedly encircled in more than one song but for the unruly 'gods.' La Boronat, though possessing a sweet and agreeable voice, wants more schooling, not only to get rid of the tremor, but likewise for her acting, which leaves much to be desired.

Tamagno is different from all other tenors—the immense volume and power of his voice surpasses all others, and if he can acquire the art of infusing into his performances a little pathos and sentiment, he will be the tenor, 'par excellence,' his acting is likewise very deficient.

There is no doubt, in my mind that the art of Italian opera singing has been for some time past, and still is, 'en decadence.' A quartette, like that in the 'Furiani,' as sung by Grisi, Rubini, Tamburini and Lablache is, I fear, never to be heard again.

There are, in fact, no singers at present capable of enthralling the senses to such an extent as to keep one awake a whole night after the opera: no, we live now in the age of Krupp guns and telephones.

Where are your orators and poets, your painters and sculptors? they have been replaced by great architects, engineers, shipbuilders and financiers; and lives, which were formerly devoted to music and painting, are now occupied exploring the interior of vast continents and making expeditions to the North and South Poles.

The Old Sager.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The weather was worse than ever yesterday in town, but better than for the camp. The sheepfarmers rejoice in the continue drizzle that turns town and suburbs into a sea of slush. However, we respectfully submit to the moon and the Clerk of the Weather that it is time for a change in the direction of dry, and there were signs of it at our press hour.

The Provincial Chamber of Deputies voted on Friday the Bill granting 20 square leagues of land to President Roca. The debate was enlivened by some strong language used towards each other by two Deputies, but Governor Roach entered the ante-salas while the unpleasantness was at its height, and succeeded in removing it. Nevertheless, the amenities were renewed and a challenge followed, but it is hoped matters will be carried no farther.

The news about the Indian raid at Puan is most serious. The mass of the marauders is composed of deserters from the army, armed with their Remingtons. It is now said that several persons on Mr. Gregorio Soler's estancia at Banco Corto were wounded in a most bloody fight with the banditti. Other accounts say that they got as far as Olavarría and sacked, burned and murdered right and left on their way. Colonel Donovan's Regiment, the 8th of the Line, is to be despatched at once to the scene of action.

We are requested to state that Mr. Jacob George, who was advertised for lately, is to be found at the Estación Tortorales, Cordoba, on the Central North Railway.

Our Rosario correspondent announces a 'ring' in wheat up there, and the bread-eating public completely 'cornered.' The knowing ones are already getting out of the 'spec' which is so mixed that grain and flour are frequently landed from and shipped to Buenos Aires on the same day.

The Governor of Salta has sent 600 navvies for the northward extension of the Tucuman Railway. The greatest enthusiasm for the work prevails in the Upper Provinces, which seem anxious to be re-rouned from their Rip van Winkle doze by the scream of the locomotive.

Robert the Devil will be repeated to-night at the Colon Theatre.

An English amateur bull-fighter named Smith is said to be creating a sensation in Spain just now. Enough cigars have been thrown to him by the admiring public to keep himself and friends in smoking material for the rest of their lives—provided they are not over particular as to quality. He has received many valuable presents.

A most salutary improvement has been introduced in High Life in New York. Instead of the 'No Cards' notice formerly attached to the advertisement of a wedding, the words 'no presents accepted' are now the rule. The pater and mater who first introduced this reform ought to be gold-medalled and their names handed down to posterity as benefactors of their species.

Mr. Santamaria, the well known saladerista, while driving to his saladero near Paysandu some days ago, accompanied by a friend, was assaulted near the town by seven mounted 'banditti' who stopped the carriage and fired some shots at it. Mr. S. jumped out and covered one of the scoundrels with his revolver, whereupon the fellow roared with fear and begged Mr. Santamaria not to kill him. The banditti then took to their horses' heels.

A Rural Society has been started in Rosario and will soon be at work.

We beg to acknowledge the receipt of £1 from Mr. W. A. Percy for the Casco Testimonial Fund.

We again feel pleasure in recommending La Moda to our lady readers. It is fully equal to any publication of the kind in Europe, and superior to most.

We believe it is settled that the Provincial Bank will shortly open a branch at Bahia Blanca. This is grand news for the settlers about there and an excellent move for the bank as there is an immense business future before Bahia Blanca.

The benefits for the Invalidos, at the Politeama was very successful. Over 30,000 mpc was taken, half of which went to the theatre and half to the veterans.

Mr. Silveira, President of the Centro Industrial, went to Cordoba lately to see how industrial matters stood up there. They are not so backward as supposed. Mr. S. says the sierras are full of the most beautiful marbles, far superior to those of Carrara. There is also an immense bed of stone similar to the Caen stone, soft as butter to work, but which becomes hard as iron when exposed to the atmosphere.

The weather showed signs of clearing up yesterday evening. There is a total eclipse of the moon to-day, and the weather will clear up splendidly to-morrow morning. So our weather man says, and he now and then makes a bull's eye in the guess line.

The German war corvette Moltke, Captain Pernau, has arrived at Montevideo from Rio. This fine vessel carries a crew of 379 men and 16 Krupp guns. She is on her way to the Pacific, to relieve the Ariadne.

We have been favoured with a graphic account of an overland trip from here to Valparaiso made by a Danish gentleman, who met Messrs. Macdonald and Sandeman 'en route' and crossed the Cordillera with the other side, to Santa Rosa, on a dark and molement night, Mr. Macdonald had a very narrow escape, his mule falling and pitching him to the ground over the head, within a few feet of a precipice of several hundred feet in depth, with a river at the bottom. We are most happy to say that Mr. d. escaped with the fright and a few bruises.

We understand that, at the Cabinet Council at the Red House on Friday, a new and decisive campaign against the Indians was discussed.

We have been favoured with a very interesting article on the new screw propeller, the De Bay, which will interest naval engineers. There are two screws, one within the other, or rather, one through the other, working different ways, with gaps cut in their blades. We have a woodcut of the new screw, which is thoroughly approved by our scientific colleague Iron as a great stride in advance.

The French company at the Variedades have not resolved to hold that theatre 'a quittance' against the owners of both the house and the site, as announced by a colleague. They have removed to the Victoria Theatre, where they play Charles Six to-night.

'Regular' is the verdict of the Rosario papers on the lyric-dramatic company. The Bells of Cornville drew a big house on the second night.

Patti has been offered £2000 a night for a singing tour in the United States, and she has accepted the engagement, to begin when her present ones are fulfilled. £2000 a night! How much is this a minute!

Dr. Uribe, Argentine Minister at Lima, has arrived; he came from Valparaiso in the Iberia. There was a fog as thick as a donkey's head all day long yesterday at Montevideo. Vessels could not enter. Alarm was felt at the non-arrival of the Savoie, and a steamer was despatched to the mouth of the Plate to look for her.

ON 'CHANGE.

June 11, 1881.
Patacona..... 25.70
Cordoba..... 61
National Bank Shares..... 99
Banco Prov..... 5 prom.
Old Gas..... 1700
The gold market opened high at 26.80 for cash, but closed ten cents under, and ruled very weak when the bull market. The cash rate was very large—204,475. For and of month over half a million sold; prices during much opening at 26.79, rising to 26.80, and closing at 26.70 sellers. Sales for July at 26.60.

In Cordoba there was a large business done, a great push being made by the bears to put down prices, in order to buy at lower rates; over 250,000 Cuchas sold, yet the market rules firm, closing at 26.94 for end of month.

Nat. Bank shares are firm and upward, sales cash at 99, and for end of month same price, speculation is very strong for July, over 1000 shares sold at 99 and 100.

Old Gas shares firm and looked for; one small sale at 1700. Prov. Bonds that are redeemable at par, at 5 prom. The gold venenamientos amounted to 410,000 pata.

The weather continued so unfavourable that although the Maskelyne's male closed at the appointed hour it is not certain if she gets away to-day or not.

Cheralier Gabrielli had an interview to-day with President Roca and Dr. Del Vio, Minister of Interior; the President expressed a wish to receive a formal offer for the City Improvement Works from Mr. Gabrielli, who leaves for Rio on 16th, but leaves a representative here.

It was announced, on 'Change' that 4600 vaguillas are being shipped from Cordoba to the River, the freight 800 per head. A small new business and may interest estanciaeros.

The prospect of a new law for the Government has arrived from Montevideo, but the names of the directors do not as yet figure.

For July 1st 1881, the Argentine Bonds of 1868 are selling in London at 13 prom, which is gold, whilst Hard Dollars are at 13 prom. Bank in paper; they will soon be selling in gold.

Notwithstanding that 250,000 pata effective were brought on 'Change,' the gold market at 2 o'clock ruled firm and prices had advanced to 26.80.

1700 shares engaged for the Italian steamer Rio Plata, formerly Clementine, at 20 fra. and 2 cent.

The sales at the ring were—
For cash 26,375 26.80-75-70
For June 15th 100,000 26.80-75
For June 30th 278,000 26.80-75
For July 15th 45,000 26.80-80
For July 31st 228,000 26.80
Sales, 1,123,275
Venenamientos $141,000

Cash A 21,000 99-99
For cash 13th A 21,000 99-99
For June 30th A 50,000 99-99-99
For July 31st A 50,000 99-99-99
Sales, 231,000

Old Gas Shares—
For cash 50 shares at $1700/m/c.
There was a slight let up in gold at afternoon, and notwithstanding that the Government broker delivered 250,000 pata, and gold from Montevideo and from Rio was abundant, 'deceitful' still prices advanced a few cents.

It seems that many who sold at high rates are about to buy their transactions, and the Government causes an artificial demand that helps the bull.

There was much said on 'Change' about the National Government delaying about drawing, but from what we can gather the Minister has not yet taken any action.

There is a great anxiety in the market to hear from Puan and what about the Indians. Some English estanciaeros of the Tres Arroyos say that they are more 'ganchos' than Indians and are 'fox' the most part composed of runaway soldiers or deserters who have been since have kept prowling about there, and it is high time for the Government to rid the camps down there of these men who some months ago also perpetrated what is termed an Indian invasion.

The sale of 4,200 National Treasury Bonds at 12 premium is reported.

Advices from Europa about salted hides are very favourable, and rates in this market show a rise of 4 to 5 rs gold, which is a very splendid thing for our friends who have two or three cargoes now on the way home at 45 rs.

A lot of wheat some 50,000 ar from Rosario is coming down to this market.

Owing to the closing of the Maskelyne's mail to-day there was not much done in exchange, brokers report a rising market, and bills freely offered at 49d.

The Montego cleared on 15th inst and will have many passengers, amongst others—
Chevalier Gabrielli
Mr and Mrs Corley
Rev. Father Martin.

The French packet Niger left Rio last night for the River Plate.

Several large sales of land out in the Italo and Guiana districts are reported; the land to be sold by Baiter Querosa in Santa Fe, near the colonies, is attracting much notice; we hear that a party has left to inspect the land, and will shortly be down on 'Change' we heard that one of the oldest English houses in this market over 600 sq. leagues a long time ago was to be sold by Baiter and Querosa, it is probable that these lands being so near to Santa Fe colonies will sell well.

Payments on 'Change' to-day were not so heavy as on the previous Saturday, the wet weather of the week having evidently checked business in produce, and it is hard work for the barterers to get the sales ready for the steamers.

The cable it seems is working splendidly, and merchants speak of the great rapidity with which messages to-day come through.

Mr. Kemmis of L. S. Roca, Santa Fe, was welcomed on 'Change,' everyone wants to know who he will send down some more of his fine horses.

Yesterday after a pause of 20 days, Mr. Querosa resumed his hammer and sold at splendid prices the sheep sent up by Mr. Comda.

The Plato's Mails.

London, Thursday, May 12.

In the House of Commons yesterday the Speaker read a letter from Mr Bradlaugh protesting against the action of the House in respect to him on the previous day. Sir Wilfrid Lawson gave notice that he would call attention to this letter to-morrow, and move that the resolution of the House on April 26th was illegal. Mr Hutchinson moved the second reading of the Newspaper (Law of Libel) Bill, which will protect newspaper proprietors from actions arising out of honest reports of public meetings; and will prevent criminal proceedings for libel, except under the fiat of the Attorney General. The Government supported the Bill, which was read a second time. The second reading of a Bill to enable clergymen to sit in the House of Commons, moved by Sir G. Goldens, was negatived by 110 to 101. The second reading of a Bill to limit the recovery of debts under one hundred pounds to twelve months was moved by Lord R. Churchill, but after some debate the Bill was withdrawn.

The Greek Premier has assured our Athens correspondent that the occupation of the Cretan territory will commence before the end of the present month.

M. St. Hilaire has forwarded a circular to French agents abroad relative to the Tunis question. He speaks of the causes of the present French expedition, and of the results which France expects to obtain from it. He says her policy in Tunis has always been inspired by one principle, that of assuring the security of the great Algerian Colony, and the first object of her expedition is the pacification of her eastern frontier. France, he continues, is kindly disposed towards the Porte and Tunis, and all that is required of the Bey is that he shall not be hostile to France.

The investigation into the murder of Sultan Abdul Aziz is to be concluded on Saturday, and our Constantinople correspondent says the Sultan is determined to bring all the persons concerned in the crime to a public trial. Sultan Murad is now said to be implicated, but as he is a lunatic he will not be tried.

The Czar has issued a proclamation expressing his firm determination to uphold and maintain the autocratic power. Telegrams received in St. Petersburg show that the disorders in South Russia are more serious and widely spread than was supposed.

Our special correspondent in Constantinople states that the project of foreign capitalists to obtain a monopoly of the tobacco revenues of Turkey, though offering material advantages to the Treasury, is regarded with disfavour, owing to fears that it will lead to the establishment of a European Financial Commission, which is viewed with great dread.

The Queen yesterday afternoon reviewed a large portion of the Aldershot force on Turf-hill, near Baginbun. The troops were divided into three Brigades, under the respective commands of Major General Sir H. Havelock-Allan, the Duke of Connaught, and Major General Spurgin. The weather was brilliant, and there was a considerable assemblage of the public to witness the spectacle. The Duchess of Connaught joined Her Majesty and the Princess Beatrice at the saluting point. At the close of the Review Her Majesty expressed to Sir D. Lyons her satisfaction with the appearance of the troops.

Some particulars were given at a meeting at the Mansion-house yesterday of the preparations for the first of the International Industrial Exhibitions which are to be taken place at the Crystal Palace. The Exhibition which is to illustrate the various branches of the Woollen Industry will be opened on the 2nd of June by the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, and it was stated that its success was already assured.

Karl Granville, who presided yesterday at the distribution of prizes to the successful students in the University of London, delivered a short address, in which he remarked that, as far as education was concerned, ladies might now regard themselves at that University on the same footing as men.

The Earl of Jersey, replying to a toast at a Conservative dinner at Brixton last night, paid a tribute to the memory of Lord Beaconsfield, and said that Lord Salisbury, the new Leader of the Conservatives in the House of Lords, would have a devoted following.

The Archbishop of Canterbury has published a letter, addressed to both clergy and laity, in which he calls attention to the proposals of the Liberation Society, and appeals for support on behalf of the Church Defence Institution.

Mr W. E. Forster addressed his constituents at Bradford last evening. He went at length into the Irish policy of the Government, and traced the circumstances which had compelled recourse to the Coercion Act and led to the preparation of the Land Bill. He expressed his belief that the Bill would pass the House of Commons by a large majority, without any substantial alterations. He is also hopeful as to its fate in the Upper House, inasmuch as the Irish landlords would be greatly disappointed were the question postponed for a year.

The Attorney General, speaking last night at a dinner of the Curriers' Company, said his office had not yet been formed, as it ought to be, into a department to influence the administration of justice, and that at the present time no one could tell with whom rested the responsibility of enforcing the law, whether with the Home Secretary, the Public Prosecutor, the Solicitor to the Treasury, or the Attorney General.

After a land meeting at New Palace yesterday, the military and constabulary who were sent to preserve the peace were attacked by a mob of about a thousand persons, who, from a railway bridge, hurled stones at the soldiers and constables, without, as appears, the slightest provocation. Several men were hurt, and it is owing to the forbearance of the troops and constables that a serious collision did not take place.

Sir J. D. Astley won the Chester Cup with Windsor, Lord Rosebery being second with Prudhomme, and Lord Falkland third with Apollo. Seven others ran. Apollo started favourite at 9 to 4 against Windsor.

In the Stock Markets yesterday Consols further receded 3/4 to 102 1/2 for the money and 102 1/2 for the account. In Home Railways a relapse of 1/4 occurred in Brighton, Deilford, Caledonia and Great Eastern being also quoted lower, but in the bulk of the 'goods' lines a substantial improvement was noted. Several American Railway Stocks were in animated request. Foreign Government Securities, with the exception principally of Turkish, closed with a fairly good tendency. Egyptian, Russian and Argentine advanced. On the other hand, a fall of 1/4 was recorded in Columbian. Gold to the value £10,000 was sent into the Bank, making a total of £22,000 received for the week.

STATE OF IRELAND

The hired transport Holland, which arrived on Monday at Portsmouth from Malta, has received orders to leave on Saturday for Ireland, conveying three full companies of marines from Chatham, Portsmouth and Plymouth.

In the Dublin Gazette last night the city of Dublin, the borough of Belfast, and two baronies in co. Tyrone were declared under the operation of the Arms Act. The Gazette was published at a later hour than usual.

A special train left Enniskillen yesterday for Manor Hamilton, conveying a detachment of artillerymen with horses and wagons, to assist the police in the erection of iron huts for protection purposes at Glenties, as the inhabitants of Manor Hamilton refuse to lend horses and carts for the purpose.

The County Permaunagh Grand Orange Lodge have expelled the Orangemen who took part in the recent land meetings, and have cancelled the warrants of the lodges they presided over.

In opening the new premises of the Cork Young Men's Association yesterday, Bishop Gregg, referring to Irish agitation, said that the social habits of the Irish people were the evils which most depressed them. If they could establish habits of honourable industry, thrift, and self-reliance, all the evils of Ireland would disappear like summer clouds.

At Waterford yesterday an attempt was made to sell a farm belonging to Captain W. B. Wyse, D.L., from which the tenant, Maurice Backett, had been evicted for the non-payment of a year's rent. When the farm was offered by the auctioneer, not a bid was for some time obtainable, although there were some 200 tenant farmers present.

After several vain attempts on the part of the auctioneer to sell the property, John Dunphy, a servant of the landlord, bit £20 for it, but on being called upon to put the cash down, Mr Thornton, solicitor for Captain Wyse, said he would accept the responsibility, and so the farm was bought in by the landlord. The Central branch of the Irish Land League wired to have the farm bought in for the tenant, but the auctioneer insisted that he should get the purchase money in hand, and as it was not forthcoming the landlord became the purchaser of his own property.

The first arrest under the Coercion Act in Queen's County was made yesterday, near Maryborough, when a man named Lalor, an evicted farmer, was taken into custody. On the departure of the train with the prisoner for Dublin cheers were given for the Land League.

An application was made at the Frankford (King's County) presentment sessions to-day, by a landlord named Meredith, for £30 as compensation for injury to his house and the killing of a dog. The house was fired into, and several windows broken, and the animal was shot dead. Mr Meredith swore the amount claimed was reasonable, but the Court, consisting of one magistrate and six cesspayers, only awarded 12s. Notice of appeal to the assizes was given on behalf of the landlord. The outrage was committed in connection with the keeping of a herd on evicted land. Mr Meredith is now guarded by police.

Mr Parnell has addressed a letter to Archbishop Crooke on the attitude of the Irish party in regard to the Land Bill. He says he would have hesitated to recommend abstinence, but it is abundantly clear it would not endanger the measure.

IMMIGRATION.

To the Editor of the Standard.

Sir,

I would wish to call your attention to the position in which immigrants desiring information from the Government officials (Immigration) find themselves. I have called at all hours at 215 25 de Mayo, at hours appointed and otherwise, and, with the exception of Captain Grennell and another gentleman, find that the average immigrant, when seeking information there, might as well listen to bog Latin, as far as the lingo of said office can be understood by myself and others. Capt. Grennell is most painstaking, but he appears to me to be

A man on double business bound, Who stands in pause Where he should first begin, And both neglected.

The Immigration Bureau of this Republic wants the overlooking of some responsible party, as it stands now it resembles

"Twenty-one men rolled up in a blanket, Forty-five times as 'high as the moon.'"

Seriously speaking, I would ask you, Mr. Editor, to give your readers the following information, viz., John Dillon, Commissioner-General has resigned, his successor is defective, and the immigrant has no responsible party to look after his interests. That's what's the matter.

Yours respectfully,
Edward Barlow,
Immigrant by the Maskelyne, 246 San Martin.

POST-OFFICE.

To the Editor of the Standard.

Dear Sir,

You would be doing a great service to your camp subscribers and to the public, if you would call the attention of the Postmaster-General to the abuses in the country Post-offices in general and the Correspondence in particular. I do not know a single man in the camp who does not complain of his letters having gone astray.

I fancy one of the principal reasons that so many letters go astray is, that the country postmasters are not obliged to keep stamps for sale to the public.

I have seen a Correo Ambulante at a railway station receive a bundle of letters and a handful of dollars. These dollars are a great temptation to a poor man travelling in the heat and dust of a railway train when he has no dollars of his own in his pocket, and 'pulpierias' are handy at every station.

Now, were the country postmasters obliged to stamp every letter as they were received, and obliterate said stamp with the name of the post-office where the letter was received, this would, at any rate, take the temptation away from the Correo Ambulante of destroying the letters and drinking the dollars.

Yours truly,
A. Sufferer.

MALTINE.

(Extract of Malted Barley, Wheat and Oats.)
The Original and only Repetitive Compound of the three Cereals.

MALTINE is a highly concentrated extract of malted Barley, malted Wheat, and malted Oats, containing, unadulterated and unimpaired, all the nutritious principles that can be extracted from these cereals. By the most careful scientific process we are enabled to offer a perfect article, possessing five to ten times the beneficial and nutritive value of any alcohol or fermented Extract of Malt.

WHEAT and OATS are especially rich in muscular and fat-producing elements, and MALTINE will increase both weight and health.

MALTINE is particularly recommended for delicate Females and for weak and debilitated Children.

For Delicacy of Taste, and for Mothers nursing, MALTINE is especially recommended.

MALTINE is the most important combination for use in Consumption.

MALTINE is entirely free from all products of Fermentation, such as Alcohol and Carbonic Acid Gas.

MALTINE is very palatable and pleasant, and will be readily taken by the youngest child.

The Compound of Maltine

Can undoubtedly be used with greater success than any other remedy now known in cases of General and Nervous Debility, Indigestion, Imperfect Nutrition, and Deficient Lactation; Cholera Infantum and Wasting Diseases of Children and Adults; Consumption from Fevers, and whenever it is necessary to increase the vital force and build up the system.

For Consumption and Wasting Diseases

MALTINE will increase both weight and health.
